

The development of social environments for health and wellbeing for all

Eri Osawa, RN, Ph.D.
Dep. of International Health and Collaboration

Research on Sustainable Development Goals and Universal Health Coverage (UHC)

Analyze issues in health systems and medical insurance systems to achieve UHC in the Asian region and collect information that will contribute to the development of a sustainable social environment in Asian countries including Japan.

Research on evidence for the evaluation of the community-based integrated care system for child and family

Evaluate continuous support and activities for child and family by analyzing longitudinal data related to maternal and child health and examine the appropriateness of implementing research findings in monitoring and evaluation of policies.

Research on collaboration with others for promoting health activities at municipal health centers

Developed 7 steps and 2 foundations for promoting health policies in collaboration with other departments and organizations in local government (municipalities)

