ON THE

PETITION RESPECTING THE FEVER INSTITUTION.

Ordered to be printed 5th July 1804.

THE COMMITTEE, to whom the Petition of the feveral Persons whose Names are subscribed thereto, being Members of the Society for Bettering the Condition of the Poor, was referred; and who were empowered to report the Matter of the said Petition as it should appear to them, with their Observations thereupon, to the House;—

TAVE, pursuant to the Order of the House, examined the Matter to them referred; and have agreed to the following REPORT:

SIR WALTER FARQUHAR, M. D. having been examined, informed Your Committee, That to his Knowledge and Experience the Infectious Fever was very prevalent in London; particularly among the poorer Parts in confined Situations: That, from Information, which he repeatedly had, and on which he could rely, he had Reason to believe that more than 3,000 Persons have Annually died of it in and about London:—That there can be no doubt that a House for receiving Patients in the Fever, would prevent the spreading the Infection; particularly if the Houses from which the Patients are removed, were properly cleaned and white-washed, and state more so if the Bed Cloaths, and also the Patients Cloaths where

MAXWELL GARTHSHORE, M. D. having been examined, also informed Your Committee, -That an Institution to prevent the fpreading of contagious malignant Fevers, has been established within

UPON the whole, Your Committee find that the Infectious Fever has been long prevalent among the Poor of London, and that above 3,000 Persons have, on an Average, Annually died of it within the Bills of Mortality.

This Evil appears to Your Committee to have continued for want of some regular System being adopted to check its Progrefs, and to purify the Houses and other Buildings in which it has prevailed.—In May 1801, an Inflitution for the Cure and Prevention of Infectious Fevers in the Metropolis was established by the Society for Bettering the Condition of the Poor; and in February 1802, a London House of Recovery was opened, in which, although it contains no more than 16 Beds, upwards of 320 Fever Patients have already been cured.

This Establishment has been hitherto supported by the Contributions and Subfcriptions of Individuals, and nearly the Whole of £.4,000 fo collected has been expended upon it. The Exent of the Inftitution appears to Your Committee infufficient for the Attainment of its Object; and although great Exertions have been used, it has not been found practicable to raife, by private Subscriptions, Funds large enough to increase or support it, more especially as it is essentially necesfary to destroy the Cloaths of the Patients, and purify the Houses in which they have been attacked by the Complaint. In the Expectation that, towards an Object of fo much National Importance, Aid might be afforded by the Legislature, a Sum of f. 1,600 has been subscribed by several Individuals, upon the Condition of such Assistance being sirst received. The Institution cannot, therefore, have the Benefit of this Bounty, without it is also supported by Parliament; and, upon the whole, it appears to Your Committee, that the Object of the Pctition is of the highest Importance, and that the proposed Institution would be productive of great Public Advantage.

FEVER INSTITUTION PETITION.

within these Three Years in Grays-lun Lane Road, which, although upon a very contracted Scale, previous to February lail received 325 Fever Parients, of whom 289 have been difinified cured, and the Houses of many of them, and others, purified, white-washed, and cleanfed; 29 died, and 7 then remained in the House. - That he does not think the prefent Establishment sufficiently extenfive, to remedy the Evil of the Infectious Fever in the Metropolis .- That a Public Institution would afford Means both of preventing and curing the Infectious Fever, which cannot be practifed in the Houses of the poorer Classes of Society; but that he is of Opinion that a Public Institution, of sufficient Extent to remedy the Evil in the Metropolis, cannot be established by Private Subscription unaffifted by Public Aid. - That it is of great Importance that the Infectious Fever thould be attended to in its early Stages; and that he believes that not one Case was ever taken into this Inftitution in an early Stage, which was not foon recovered, it being a Diforder the Prevention and Cure of which are perfectly well understood. - That the Infectious Fever has prevailed for a long Courfe of Years in fome of the crouded Parts of the Metropolis, in a more or less degree, according to Seasons and Circumstances.

THOMAS BERNARD, Esquire, having been examined, likewise informed Your Committee, That the London Fever Hospital in Gray's-Inn Lane was established in May 1801, and a House of Recovery opened in Gray's-Inn Lane in February 1802.—That great Exertions have been made in every possible way to obtain Subscriptions, and yet the present Funds are not equal to the maintaining that fmall House on the present Scale. - That the whole Sum which has been raifed by Donations and Subscriptions, has amounted to £.4,378, the Annual Expences of the House are between £.600 and £.700, and that the House is not adequate to One-tenth Part of the Patients who want Relief, as it contains only 16 Beds .- Finding that this Establishment will not be adequate to the Purpose, the Society have begun raising a Fund of £. 3,000, and f. 1,600 has already been subscribed, upon Condition that Parliament would grant fuch a Sum, as together with those Subscriptions would prove effectual to the defired Object.
