 The women referred to receive special benefits, for a limited period after marriage, under Section 22 of the National Health Insurance Act, 1918.

Sums amounting to £9,168 2s. 5d. recorded in previous years as Benefit Payments have, according to the returns for the year 1920, been transferred to Administration Account as Improper Benefit payments irrecoverable. (See section 17 (d) of the National Health Insurance Act, 1918.)

NOTE ON ADDITIONAL BENEFITS.—Additional Benefits provided out of surpluses declared at the first valuation became payable, under schemes approved by the Ministry, from 4th July, 1921 (in some cases from a later date). In the above statement payments of the Additional Benefits which take the form of increases of ordinary cash benefits (Sickness, Disablement and Maternity) are included in the figures for those benefits. Payments in respect of Additional Benefits which do not take that form are shown separately.

(b) Further payments of £14,920 10s. 11d. Medical Benefit and £4,950 14s. 7d. Sanatorium Benefit are included under "Other charges to Benefit Fund" in the Abstract of Approved Societies' Receipts and Payments (England) on page 2, being the cost of those benefits administered by an Approved Society for its own members.

(c) The payments shown for Administration include the proportion of the expenses of Administration attributable to Sanatorium Benefit.

NOTE.—Sanatorium Benefit ceased in Scotland after the 31st December, 1920, and in England and Wales after the 30th April, 1921, to be provided as a benefit under the National Health Insurance Acts. In the above statement the payments of Sanatorium Benefit include payments of liabilities outstanding at the dates of cessation. Medical Benefit is administered by Insurance Committees for all persons entitled to the benefit under the Acts, except the persons referred to in Note (b) above. In Ireland, Sanatorium Benefit is similarly administered.
